

Sy Syms School of Business

Established in 1987 through a major gift from Sy Syms, a member of Yeshiva University's Board of Trustees, and other business leaders, the Sy Syms School of Business is the university's undergraduate business school for men and women. It offers the unique combination of a complete business curriculum along with an intensive Jewish studies component.

One of the best undergraduate business programs in the Northeast, the school instills in students strong analytic skills, discipline, and ethical values. The curriculum, leading to the Bachelor of Science degree, offers professional preparation with a broad base in liberal arts studies. The curriculum covers a common body of knowledge—the business core—in addition to majors or concentrations in accounting, finance, information systems (available as a minor), international business, management, and marketing.

Jewish tradition provides the framework for consideration of ethical issues, an integral part of the school's curriculum. All students take a full Jewish studies program through the Rebecca Ivy School of Jewish Studies. Students are taught by a distinguished faculty who hold positions in the research and professional communities, offering students a thorough background in the theoretical and practical aspects of business.

The Rennert Entrepreneurial Institute is one of the nation's few undergraduate programs that fosters students' entrepreneurial skills and knowledge for creating and developing a business. The institute employs an inte
